

A POLITICAL and SATYRICAL
HISTORY
P OF THE L.
Years 1756, 1757, 1758, and 1759.

In a SERIES of
ONE HUNDRED Humorous and Entertaining
P R I N T S.
CONTAINING,

All the most remarkable Transactions,
Characters and Caricatures of those memorable Years.

To which is annexed,
An Explanatory Account or KEY to every Print, which renders the whole full and significant.

IN TWO PARTS.

L O N D O N:
Printed for E. MORRIS, near St. Paul's.

E

T

par oth wh
fuc
Bar
Pec
I der eve
I oug thro we gar

EXPLANATION.

PLATE I.

THE Deserts of these Caricaturas are by the Satyrists fixed over the Heads of each, as partly by the Craft of one, and the Blunders of the other, our Marine at that time was turned topsiturvey, while the Gallick Cock crowed triumphant. But a succeeding Patriot has since weighed the foundered Bark to his own Glory, and the Satisfaction of the People.

PLATE II. How the Fox came there is no Wonder, as this Pit was designed by Nature to destroy every Thing of a subtle and crafty Disposition.

PLATE III. The true antigallican Spirit which ought to reign in every British Heart, will easily see through the Intentions of this Print, and to whom we have been most obliged for that insatuated Regard which has been fixed to every Thing French.

PLATE IV. Shews that the wisest and best of Princes may be often imposed on by Craft, may influenced by Folly. Yet the superior Motives of Justice and Liberty will, at one Time or other, prevail, to the total overthrow of Corruption and Venality. Has not this been the Case?

PLATE V. The Emblem contained in this Print shew the Distress and Calamities to which a Nation is exposed by the bad Ways and Means that are contrived by self-interested Statesmen, and how the publick Good is often inverted by political Schemers to enrich themselves: This lately seems to have been the Case of some poor Islanders north of the Equator.

PLATE VI. Those who are the least acquainted with Natural Philosophy, will see immediately into the Cause of this Petrification: But some Naturalists are of Opinion that their Hearts were also found to be petrified against the Interest of their Country, which cannot be disproved.

PLATE VII. A remarkable Caricatura, compounded of several Species, being by some supposed to be a Sea-Calf, by others a Sea-Lion; after having been tossed about on its native Element for some Years, it was cast ashore on a gaming Island, where it was so captivated with Cards and Dice, that it was naturaliz'd, commenced Gamester, and fixed upon the Island ever since.

PLATE VIII. An Attempt not at all unnatural for one who expected nothing but Death, either for his own erroneous Judgment, or to atone for the Blunders of others ; which of these Motives was the real one, may be no easy Matter to determine.

PLATE IX. Shews that nothing is more inconsistent than for any Nation to depend on the Forces of another, without a due Exertion of its own Strength. The Natives of a Country must always be the best to defend it ; therefore let Germans fight for Germany, and Englishmen for England.

PLATE X. Shews the Deficiency of every bungling Statesman's Head piece, who being incapable of any Thing himself, is obliged to keep a hireling Schemer, whom he is sure to load with Rubbish enough, and Ass-like must bear the Burden through every dirty Slough.

PLATE XI. Expresses very sarcastically the bewitching Power of Gold, and that an avaritious Man will venture his Neck either to the Sharpness of the Axe, or the Strength of the Cord ; very applicable to three great People of late, who were thought to be too venturesome ; one of which got his Death-wound thereby.

PLATE XII. As the natural Vulture preys upon the Heart of Man, so has this unnatural Vulture preyed upon the Vitals of a Nation.

PLATE XIII. Shews that the Prince who is beloved by his People has no Occasion for foreign Mercenaries to defend him ; as the Year 1740 plainly indicated to a great Northern Monarch.

PLATE XIV. Expresses by the Flower-de-luce how much the Caricatura was connected with our Enemies, and was even a Dupe to them against the Interest of his Country.

PLATE XV. Infers by the Sharpness of the Nose that Craft and Subtilty which is natural to Creatures of a similar Kind, known by the Name of Foxes, and is here pointed out as a K—e.

PLATE XVI. Some little Attention to the Hieroglyphick Characters will sufficiently explain the Meaning of the whole, which is truly satyrical.

PLATE XVII. The Lines under written sufficiently shew the Meaning of this Print, as by the Title it shews it to be the Apparition of a deceased Minister to his Brother.

PLATE XVIII. This Caricatura, with the Label and Lines is sufficiently explanative.

PLATE XIX. By looking closely into the Hieroglyphick Characters the Meaning will be plainly found out, this being a Remonstrance of a deceased Minister to a People whose Complaints were rather numerous than well grounded.

PLATE XX. This Print represents a late culprit Ad — l, who it was then reported was to discover the Authors of his Misconduct, as well as the Nation's Disgrace.

PLATE XXI. Plainly indicates the weak Intellectuals of those in Power at that Time, who had the Driving of Britannia.

PLATE

PLATE XXII. The various Powers that were there resolved upon the Destruction of Britain, and the sudden revolting of others is here very sarcastically shewn. Consider then how rotten her Foundation.

PLATE XXIII. A droll Piece, which was intended as a Satyr upon some Personages who were then expected at the Helm of Affairs.

PLATE XXIV. This Print is a Satyr which was well grounded, there being a Race made by several Noblemen at that Time, which ran fastest, a Flock of Geese or Turkeys, when at that Juncture our Enemies were by much superior to us in the War.

PLATE XXV. An Allusion to the above, as well as a Connection with that of the Geese. This Satyr expresses the bungling of our Politicians at that Time, and how miserably our Affairs were cobbled.

PLATE XXVI. This Caricatura was esteemed the most atrocious Knave in the Pack, and the worst of the black Sort.

PLATE XXVII. A Caricatura famous for his Attachment to the old Pack; his Eloquence was always exerted to vindicate their Blunders, which he was a great Admirer of.

PLATE XXVIII. The Labels of the different Objects, and the Lines at Bottom, sufficiently explain the Intention of this Print.

PLATE XXIX. This Caricatura was very active in our late Blunders, and his great Eagerness for the
A 4
Italian

Italian Stage might probably be one Reason why he made so trifling a Figure in Politicks.

PLATE XXX. Perhaps the greatest Complement ever paid to an honest and good Minister, whose single Virtue we now find is capable of doing more than all the others put together.

PLATE XXXI. A great Encomium on the Men of Kent, who, when a Foreign Delinquent was found guilty of Theft, exerted their antient Prerogatives, notwithstanding there was a whole Army of his Countrymen on the Spot.

PLATE XXXII. There was at this Time great Occasion for the Revival of the old Song, particularly against some Enemies at home.

PLATE XXXIII. By a little Attention to the hieroglyphical Parts, the whole Meaning is unfolded.

PLATE XXXIV. The great Distress of our Country at the Time this Print was published, was of more Consequence than the Squaling of an Italian Singer. However she took some great People by the Ears, whose Likenesses in the Print are very obvious.

PLATE XXXV. A Satyrical Stroke upon an Act that favoured something of arbitrary Power, whereby the Liberty of the common Subject might seem to be impaired, to enhance that of the Nobility and Gentry.

PLATE XXXVI. Shews the natural Antipathy of every English Bosom against the Assistance of Foreign Troops; which it is to be hoped all future Ministers will avoid.

PLATE

PLATE XXXVII. Every one of these Figures are very striking, and may be easily known to those who have the least Penetration in Politicks.

PLATE XXXVIII. This Caricatura's Propensity to Gaming tells us at once how valuable he must be to a Shipwrecked State, and that he deserves, (like a drunken Pilot in a Storm) to be thrown overboard, to make room for one of clearer Brains and more Integrity.

PLATE XXXIX. Is a very great Satyr upon the Labour of the Politician here represented. The Fox, who attends as Mother Midnight, is likewise very expressive of that Subtlety and Craft peculiar to those Animals. The Lines and Labels, upon mature Consideration, are very essential in opening the Intention of the Satyrist.

PLATE XL. Plainly infers that those in Power will represent Things as they please; for as all Occurrences are deduced from them, both the Prince and the People are equally deceived.

PLATE XLI. Is an Encomium undoubtedly deserved as his great Clemency to his Subjects sufficiently evince. What a Pity it is then, that so good a Master should have so many bad Servants about him as he had at the Time when this was published.

PLATE XLII. Relative to the great Loss the Nation felt at that Time, which will be easily perceived upon consulting the Hieroglyphicks. It is upon upon the whole, a droll Manner of satyrising the Authors of our Disgrace.

PLATE XLIII. The Satyr of this Print is wrapt in Hieroglyphicks which are easily solved.

PLATE XLIV. The easy Compliance of those who are inferior in Power to one who is greater than themselves, and how calmly the Gulls will suffer themselves to be led by the Nose on such Occasions, is here very sarcastically treated on; but at that Time was a Satyr upon a particular great Man, who was asking a Favour he knew very well must not be refused.

PLATE XLV. The subject Matter contained in the Hieroglyphic Piece is a satyrical invective against the Queen of Hungary for her Ingratitude in forsaking her old and faithful Ally, and connecting with her common and inveterate Enemy the French.

PLATE XLVI. This is a sarcastical Stroke upon a late great Man, who under the Mask of a Resignation from his Office, was still playing the old Game, and imagined no Body saw through it. Tho' at the same Time 'tis plain enough he made the worst and basest Part of himself the most conspicuous. Except he had shewn his Heart.

PLATE XLVII. This Hieroglyphic Piece contains a supposed Complement of the King of Prussia to Great Britain on our New Administration, which, 'tis plain, has been productive of our late happy Successes.

PLATE

PLATE XLVIII. This Piece very punningly plays upon the Title of a great Man at that Time in Power, whose Situation was then as here represented. All the Satyr in this Print is pointing out the Defects of one who had made very egregious Blunders in the Sphere of Politicks.

PLATE XLIX. This Plate being published at that Juncture when our great Minister proposed to serve his Country, was the only Thing that can be said in its behalf, having no great Humour to recommend it.

PLATE L. This contains a very satyrical Reflection on the old ones, who were at that Time in so much Disgrace with the People, that they were reduced to the Necessity of engaging an Author, who vainly endeavoured to varnish over their black Characters in a Paper published on purpose,—though in fact it was to no Purpose.

PLATE LI. Infers the Vicissitudes that are made at the Helm when a good and virtuous Minister assumes the Reins of Government, and whose Principles are as strongly attached to the Welfare of a People as to the Dignity of his King.

PLATE LII. Every one of these Characters are sufficiently known by the Likeness and Descriptions. The Satyrs here are Bankrupts, was owing to their Resignations at that Time.

PLATE LIII. Is a very severe Stroke on the Author of a Paper at that Time called The Test, but a severer severer upon those who employed him, who are ashamed to shew their Faces in such a dirty Affair ; while, on the other hand, the Complement is genteely paid to the Integrity of Mr. Pitt and Lord Temple.

PLATE LIV. Similar to a modern Guy, who would have made as great a Blow-up at the Helm as ever his Predecessor in King James's Time could have done ; had not the Eye of Providence interven'd.

PLATE LV. An ironical Complement paid to a great Commander at that Time.

PLATE LVI. Shews how trifling the Life of a human Creature is when it is only made a Subject for Gamesters to bet on ; as it is well known many Sums were lost and won on the Death of a late Admiral.

PLATE LVII. A Satyr on the Puffing which was made use of at this Time, when great Preparations were making for the grand secret Expedition.

PLATE LVIII. Allusive to the false Reports and Lies that were at that Time blown into the People's Ears through the Instigation of this Monster.

PLATE LIX. A shrewd Satyr, and a Sight of this Kind would have been very pleasing to some real Englishmen, as the Troubles of the Nation sufficiently called out for Punishment on those who were the Sources of them, one of which is here represented with his hireling Author in Triumph.

PLATE LX. There could not be an Epithet more suitable to the Dispositions and Occupations of
the

the Gentlemen here aimed at, than what is made use of in the Title and Lines, which are full of Truth, and discover a great Antipathy of such Monsters. But are full of Regard for the sacred Person of a King.

PLATE LXI. 'Tis easily seen through as to what the Satyrift intends. It alludes to a remarkable Transaction in the Year 1757, on the other Side the Wefer.

PLATE LXII. This Print is said to have its Origin at the Hague, and was remarkable for its strong Indication of Dutch Foresight.

PLATE LXIII. Alludes to the same Transaction with Plate LXI. and needs no further Explanation.

PLATE LXIV. A Satyr on the Causes of a Failure at that Time, when a great Blow intended on the Coast of France was said to be set aside to save a House in G—y.

PLATE LXV. On one hand this Print shews the Timidity of a Commander at that Time, who was said to be so frightened with the Description of the Difficulties he must go through (which, by the by he received from a Frenchman) that he did not chuse to proceed further; while on the other hand it shews the Intrepidity of our Men, and their Eagerness to land.

PLATE LXVI. Contains the most remarkable Characters, Caricaturas, Objects, Incidents, Occurrences, &c. &c. of that Time.

PLATE

PLATE LXVII. A Complement turned to the Citizens of London, whose firm Attachment to their Rights and Liberties, and to those worthy Patriots Mr. Pitt and Mr. Legge, was so great, that they were not to be biased by all the Craft and Subtilty of a Fox.

PLATE LXVIII. Shews how often an Afs shall be loaded with Honours and Affluence, because he is related to a greater in Power, while the generous Horse must be neglected. A little Perusal of this easily shews where and on whom it is pointed.

PLATE LXIX. Alluding to a great Vacancy at the Helm when this Print was published, which, according to the Character which answers, is easily known.

PLATE LXX. Shews the insatiable Thirst of Avarice, which perhaps was never so conspicuously seen as in the unjust Demands made by the Caricatura here represented.

PLATE LXXI. A great Complement to one whose Zeal for the publick Good we hope will be inexhaustible. May it still flame forth with the same national Spirit, and dart its Beams hurtful only to the Enemies of the People.

PLATE LXXII. Shews the mercenary and artful Security of the Dutch, who, while other Nations are jarring, are encreasing their Wealth and Commerce.

PLATE

PLATE LXXIII. All these Caricaturas were at the Time when this Print was published the most obnoxious to Britain, and subverted her Rights as far as in their Powers to a foreign Connection.

PLATE LXXIV. A great Mistake which was made by a great Commander, as our Satyrift seems to indicate. It is however a droll Reason enough for the Hero to relinquish his Design.

PLATE LXXV. A very striking Likeness of the great Mr. Pitt, whose Effigy is supported by Loyalty and Liberty, the first of which is treading Envy under her Feet, while the latter is crushing the Craft and Subtilty of the Fox. May this illustrious Worthy maintain the Dignity and Honour he has hitherto deserved, and never deviate from the Interest of a People that love him.

F I N I S.

tic
ne ta
T
B v v
n b
v
v

EXPLANATION.

PLATE LXXVI.

THIS humourous Card represents the sudden Revolution in the Affairs of Europe; but particularly of the Empire of Russia, and her Connections immediately after the second Victory obtained by the King of Prussia over the Russian Troops, commanded by the Generals Fermur and Brown.

PLATE LXXVII. A comical Representation of a great Personage, who by the happy possession of very extraordinary Talents in the turn-a-bout Way, very cunningly turned himself into several of the most profitable and lucrative Places.

PLATE LXXVIII. The same Personage as above, tho' represented in a different Character. The Satire may be applied to Statesmen in General, who when once they have set aside the Clamours of the Populace, and the Fear of a Halter, can easily blunt the Stings of Conscience, with the healing Balsam of a rich Reversion.

PLATE LXXIX. The Arms of two great Gamesters well known at Arthur's and the Cocoa-tree.

PLATE LXXX. The different Resolutions of the great Personages of that Time is here represented, according to the appearance they then made in the Affairs of Europe.

PLATE LXXXI. By the Characters contained in this Auction, we are justly taught to reflect on a certain Port that was given away, or rather sold, and how near a celebrated Island north of the Equator was of meeting with the same Fate in the Year Forty-five; together with a famous Electorate in Germany, which was since put up and stoutly contended for, but still remains in the Possession of the right Owner.

PLATE LXXXII. When a Minister for his own Ends prostitutes the Credit and Honour of a Nation, He may be justly stiled a national Bawd, Who having no Honesty in himself, would be glad to extirpate it from the Face of his Country—Such a One is here very satirically Represented.

PLATE LXXXIII. Represents the Resolutions of a certain great Monarch, who about this Time shook off his Attachment to three of his old Servants, who by their Villany, Extravagance, and Self.

Self interestedness had almost reduced him to Beggary and Contempt.

PLATE LXXXIV. This is a Satire on some Attempts that were then making by the French, and some other interested People to destroy our woolen Manufacture.

PLATE LXXXV. The Craft and self Interest of the Dutch is in this Card sarcastically demonstrated; Who having no Ideas of Honour or Humanity, no Emulation to outshine other States in the Acquisition of Learning and Science, all their Pleasure is center'd in Gain, and as it is impossible they can ever make any figure in the Annals of Fame, as a learned or military People (being by nature Dunces and Cowards.) They are determin'd to make themselves famous (or rather infamous) for their Wealth, tho' acquired upon the meanest and most dishonest Principles.

PLATE LXXXVI. Alludes to the Revolt of a certain great Merchant, whose Name is mentioned in the Card—the Shock which our Trade felt at that Time from the Consequences of it are severely known to us even at the present Hour.

PLATE LXXXVII. The Resolutions of the States of Holland in Relation to the Recovery of their Ships which had been taken by our Privateers freighted with French Goods, or trading contraband.

band to French Ports, how far they succeeded is well known.

PLATE LXXXVIII. This Card ridicules the prevailing Power of Enthusiasm, which has been loudly belch'd forth from the Mouths of Mercenary Mechanicks, for some Years past at the two noted Warehouses of Tottenham-Court and Hoxton.

PLATE LXXXIX. A celebrated General-Officer whose Firmness and Integrity is not in the least to be doubted, is here the object of Satire and Envy deservedly, but when we consider how different the Resolutions of the Men were to that of the General, we cannot help thinking his Lordship in the right as he might have been somewhat indangered by their eagerness to engage.

PLATE XC. The Labels and Characters here represented are sufficient to explain the Meaning of the Print, with the least Application.

PLATE XCI. The whole Sense and Intention of the Satirist is here artfully wrapt up in hieroglyphic Characters, and depends entirely upon the Application and Patience of the Reader to find it out.

PLATE XCII, Is the Prayer of a certain General in Disgrace, and is as the above, hieroglyphically represented.

PLATE XCIII. With the Assistance of a little Time and Patience the Reader will easily come at the

the Meaning of this Card, it being of the hieroglyphic Kind.

PLATE XCIV. A Satire on the longwinded Humbugg that has often alarmed the People of Great-Britain—The old Gentleman at the Helm of the Boat being a known Anti-militian is easily guessed at, the rest of the Characters are very Conspicuous, and need no further explaining.

PLATE XCV. The great Discouragement our Privateers met with, on Account of the Restoration of the Dutch Ships, is here satiriz'd with the sure Friends the Dutch made in order to bring it about. The Frenchman is represented sneering at the British Patriot, and the brave English Sailor, who has lost his Limbs in the Service of his Country, is refused the smallest Portion of his Right, by Self-Interested and avaritious Dutchmen.

PLATE XCVI. A great Satire on the Effeminacy and Cowardice of a Noble, or rather Ignoble, General.

PLATE XCVII. This Card is a high Peice of Ridicule on the deplorable Situation of the French King, and seems as a memorial of our Superiority over our Mortal and Inveterate Enemies the French, who at this Period were the most distress'd of any Nation in Europe, through the great successes of our Fleets and Armies.

PLATE XCVIII. This Print contains a sufficient Explanation without any further Help.

PLATE

PLATE XCIX. A Satire on the Shifts which the French were drove to, in Order to support their Ambition, and whether they can possibly succeed or not by such Means, must always remain as a Blot upon the whole Kingdom of France, as it is the lowest Instance of a Nation's Poverty that ever History contained.

PLATE C. The Satire of this Print is the same with that of Plate XCVI, it not only serves to render the Character of this dastardly chief more hateful to every loyal Briton, but shews how much more noble an inferior Officer behav'd on this Occasion, whose Eagerness to engage and antipathy to such Cowardice is well known to England. May Britons ever find such Commanders as Granby, and may the Honour of our Constitution be supported with that Wisdom which now shines at the Helm of Government, and that the latter Years of our George's Reign may be distinguished with more Heroes and Patriots than ever adorned the Annals of any Nation under Heaven.

F I N I S.

s which ort their succeed n as a as it is at ever

he same rves to f more y much on this ntipathy
d. May Granby, be sup-s at the ears of th more Annals

Brother 'Brother; we are both in the Wrong.

Vide Gay's Rascals & Jacks.

The FOX in the PIT.

2

And Whosoever will not do the Law of thy God, & the Law of the King, let judgment be Executed Speedily upon him, whether it be unto Death, or to Banishment, or to Confiscation of Goods, or to Imprisonment.

Blessed be the Lord God of our Father, who hath Put such a thing as this in the King's heart.

Ezra Chap. VII. v. 26. 27.

To be had at the ... down in the Strand

England Made Odious, Or the French Dressers.

And shall the Substitutes of power, | Let them Remember there's an Hour,
Our Genius thus bedick? — | Of Quittance, Then we're Sick? —

To be had at the down-falling, James, y^e end, Strand.

A Maxim this the Vice first thrives, | A Glorious Prince you'll always see,
 He seldom lasts the Offenders lives. | Restore your Laws & Liberty! -
 according to Act Sept. 1875. By Daily & Weekly Printing, Kingsport, N. H. and

Can

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

the

Cannon Refused by Foreigners, as too Destructive & that they refused to do with it, saying that the more it was used, the more it would destroy the country.

Ammunition

Ways & Means

Distress

Every Duty & everything was done.

that they did all before it, and that equally from either side, its weight of metal & propulsion being about 8,000,000.

Amusement

Amusement

Stone & Mud in Road

This Piece killed two persons in Europe and wounded several by the Wind of its Shot.

Amusement

Amusement

Short Road to Syria
But Extreme Black

These Cannon are all Mounted on Golden Wheels.
to be at the Avernus River, Hannibal's March in the Spring.

LUSUS • NATURÆ.
 A Curious Petri-Faction.
 Dedicated to the Royal Society.

- 1 *Two Heads Imperfect of a Black Hue
 suppos'd to have been Wood*
- 2 A Stone Head not Stemm'd, & Very Dull.
- 3 *a sort of petrified Fungus, to which they Adhere & The Foreheads are found to be Entirely Lapis Caliminaris.
 To be had at the down facing Stangerfont, Strand*

'The SEA LYON —

7

MORES HOMINES —

B
14

(C)

1

2

3

4

5

Bunga's Last Effort, or the Brave Soldier, but mistook, the Cowardly Sailor.

Oh! Shame to Nature, Shame to Common Sense,
Must Britain for its own Defence,
Depend on Champions not her own,
So weak She cannot stand alone;
Not so, Unchain her willing hands,
And we've no heed of foreign Bands.

To be had at the down printing Hangerford. Strand

Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association

There lives a Report that an old woman had a donkey,
Who an Ass said to Stone for a miserable name,
As would it was, it must be a donkey's name,
But a greater to see a Stone turn'd to donkey.

7

The Devil turned Bird-catcher.

1. A Devilly catching at the Bait while the Bird catches its Drop an Ace.
2. A Broby at the Bait & caught in a Net.
3. A Buzzard caught in a trap of his own Making tho' that's Disputed.

Published according to Act Sept. 22 1792. By D. & T. in the Room facing St. James's Street.

The VULTURE.

*Aquilus Can Nurse his Own,
 On Other Birds he'll prey? —
 Unhappy Country cease your moan,
 'Tis now the Usual way? —
 to be had at the Golden dawn facing Hungerford, Strand*

Mons^r Dupes

Mons. Surcard,

p[®]

Oliver Cromwell the 1756
 this is a letter to the Count of the govern. let the French their Malad and on Supp the french spiritless U let them and some
 to was, they will f U, make them, and the Dutch 2, was t David & no
 Sugoid I made use of 2, men Sum, to represent to the Rome 2 be sure a halter, give at U R
 so the 2, to the 2, of the 2
 in 2, in the 2, of the 2
 in a safe manner, 2, of the 2

Oliver Cromwell the 1756
 these are the Count's let the govern, let the R. R. their Male ad and on supple the french & frightle U let them and know, they will f. U. make them, and the Dutch 2. was saved & no
 I made use of Turn, I present
 Rogue 2 be sure what first UR Jack of the 1st of Jan in their 2. of V. 12
 of a state interview 2. of Oliver Cromwell

HA

Py
So
On W Bo
He I
Al
Sh
in
W
Bo

HARRY the NINTH to GOODY MAHON 17

Piping hot Boil'd in Brimstone, dear sister I'm come,
 To tell you some News, & believe me no hum:
 Old Lot-k desires You'd try to save Bang,
 Whose fame quite thro' out our whole Region has Rang,
 But M-th-rs look'd sour, & said I don't you go,
 With such a fools Messag; I'll have you to know,
 I'm Superiour to Lot-k here as well as aloft,
 And you know where you're going the folks are but soft,
 Tell 'em this in their Ears, twill do mighty well,
 To save their own Necks they must send Bang to Hell.
 My Messag; deliver'd, you're left to your train,
 With Lot-k to side on give'r M-th-rs your Voice.

Published according to the copy as presented to the Author by the Managers of the Theatre.

*On
At W
The
The N*

Publ

I am not fat, no
 Steak-headed Sleeper
 I have a lean and Hungry look. Much do I think, but hold thee Cassius times
 there were—hush no
 more of that: what pleasures now can pall'd Ambition give, or the delightfull Sense of well Earn'd promise to thee so justly due.
 O fatal Stroke.

O Prætor Strive thy Grov'ling mind to raise,
 Above the Bounds of thy Imperfect State,
 Wouldst thou tread thy heart path, unto the Ever open gate
 There wilt thou meet rewards, due only to thy praise
 That praise which thou hast Earn'd, so just so well.
 No more. — my Muse forbids me more to tell.

Published according to Act of Parliament's Ap. 10. 1756. by Edm. Smith & Son, at G. & J. G. & Son, in G. Strand.

[Faint handwritten notes, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.]

w^ho ~~like~~ ~~to~~ ~~lose~~ ~~the~~ ~~poor~~ ~~land~~ and ~~the~~ ~~nothing~~ ~~the~~ ~~vile~~ ~~tricks~~ ~~of~~ ~~withstand~~ w^ho ~~are~~ ~~none~~ ~~of~~ ~~your~~ ~~own~~ when ~~of~~ ~~var~~ ~~of~~ ~~merits~~ ~~from~~ ~~you~~ ~~quite~~ ~~flown~~ w^ho ~~friends~~ ~~of~~ ~~us~~ ~~and~~ ~~out~~ ~~we~~ ~~will~~ ~~leave~~ ~~ye~~ when each pimpy provance strives ~~to~~ ~~do~~ ~~ye~~ w^ho ~~hardly~~ ~~a~~ ~~Vote~~ ~~is~~ ~~got~~ ~~for~~ ~~a~~ ~~bribe~~ nor a worse sett of mortals than those of ~~the~~ ~~place~~
 w^ho ~~are~~ ~~the~~ ~~Refuse~~ ~~of~~ ~~the~~ ~~place~~ Blow ~~at~~ ~~an~~ ~~as~~ ~~like~~ ~~a~~ ~~prof~~ ~~of~~ ~~it~~
 w^ho ~~things~~ ~~Resolved~~ ~~to~~ ~~they~~ ~~are~~ ~~worse~~
 I'll wish for poor Rob ~~for~~ ~~all~~ ~~his~~ ~~Curse~~

The Way the Cat Jumps, or the Boy frighten's his Nurse. 20

Now Varied are the turns of fickle Chance would fate?
 Bung was Obnoxious till he prophesied of fate?
 And. Now you plainly see he makes em stir their stumps,
 Cry—Blowing up the train, blow you and what way Pops jumps.
 Published according to Act Oct. 4th 1756. by Edward & Doris, at the Iron Mill, Kingsford Street

Needs must when the Devil Drives. — 21

She's in your stead no more shall grace the field. Would it thou a poem to write or steady make.
But to the Cribb's Cove & Cobbling Cart they yield. The one will keep the plentiful want of sense.
Go from these (for a true red dye) Instructions take. The Other teach the Cobbling Elegance.?

Published according to Act. Oct. 25. 1766. by Edwards & Darcy, facing, New York, in the Strand.

Are these

and my family are the Things so. 22

A List of the Pedigrees of some Eminent Geese 23
Shortly to appear in Public.

Neck and Gillets a famous Goose belonging to Esq. Goose cap bred out of Waddle by the Wild Gander Lord Anser who flew all round and Came back again.

Lord Leo's Old Grey Gander Nefario famous for Sucking of Golden Eggs his Daughter runs in the same track with Lord Anser.

Sly a famous Goose of Lord Leo's his breed is very low & being fond of Dabbling in the Dirt is tumid off the Common but is to be kept at the expence of the Farmers round about.

Gabble & His an excellent Goose for the High Road he was bred out of Little Tony this Goose has been remarkable in all y Dirty courses he has waddled thro for bringing the other Geese on thier Way.

Lord Leo's Smilum this Goose was bred out of that great Sporter Hold-his-nest this is y most goodnatur'd Goose in the World even in the Dirtiest Roads.

Published according to Act Oct. 20. 1758. by Edwards & Darby at the deern placing Stings on Ford Strand.

The Pleasures of the Turf.

44

*Birds of a feather will flock together,
Like to like, as the Devil said to the Collier.*

Published according to the Act of 1740 by the Author, in the Strand, in the Strand.

*A List of the Pedigrees of some Eminent Turkeys
shortly to appear in Public.* 25

Lady Gabbles Turkey-cock Cobler son of the Italian Birch & Dun who beat Lord Numb sculls Clostrate and Esq.^r Slabbers five to four — 3 Heats for a Dish of Plummary.

Lord Winkle fairs Barebones son of Lady Bullbuck's Spinulle Thanks by the noted Hye & go forward who beat y.^e Devil knows who y.^e Devil knows where y.^e memo rable Year of the Man and the Bottle.

*Esq.^r Trud umis noted Italian Turkey
Capon kept so long in Italy by an emi nent father for his own private Use his pedigree is unknown.*

M^r Farmers Strut that gain'd such Univer sal applause in the European Race at the Glorious & Lasting Treaty of Aix la Chape lle this Creature was then esteem'd equal to either of the Ostriches left behind at that time.

Esq.^r Maggot's Whoresbird half brother to Barebones bred out of Balderdash by Lord Looby's best on the Turf.

Published according to Act Oct: 28. 1756 by Edwards & Daryl at the Aleen against Hungerford Strand.

NULL MARRIAGE .

*What Oratory can do Shall be done
But then Good Sir you know I am but one*

This is his writing to the City of London, by Edward & Darcy joining Hungerford, Samuel.

The PATRIOT of PATRIOTS.

29

*— Britain you boast your Liberty,
Why then should you in thralldom bind,
Those friends who came to set you free?
Upon my word it is not Kind.*

Published according to Act Oct. 7. 78. by D. G. Edwards at the American Theatre, Strand

Magna est Veritas et Praevalebit.

Aloft in Air the loaded Scale does Mount.

Thus Vice and Virtue Swims upon a just Account.

Published according to a List of Parliament by Edmund D'Orby at the Tavern facing Hungerford Church.

The Kentish Out-Laws.

31

*If Discontented Subjects
Do find the cause needs no doctors,
Tis to what End our stringless pack,
Shall be brought, shall it last?*

*He men of Kent remember well,
The tale of Old you as'd to tell,
Recall to mind the Norman pie,
He did n't dare to see you so.*

Published according to Act of Parliament, in the Year, 1790, by the Author, facing St. James's Street, Strand.

*Britons Strike Home,
An Old Tune, Proper to be Play'd upon Several Instruments at this Juncture.*

Britons Strike home

Revenge

Revenge Your Country's Wrongs

See the Head at Plymouth and Drury facing Rungeford in the Strand.

1722. 1723. 1724.

The Association 1736.

In stable & in a barn. Lys.
 Matter develop'd by the wise?
 'Tis not a man perhaps but knows How York & Waterman & Rivers.
 Published according to Act No. 3. York & Waterman & Rivers.

Law for the Out-Laws

If these Hirelings must judge and judge by their own Laws,
 Let them find themselves Quarters, (A very just cause) -
 If they Plunder or Murder, pray who gives relief,
 Those who are if they will save or Hang up the Thief.
 If while in Tents they'd Purloin when woven presents,
 They'd Thunder your Houses, and think 'em their Tents.

Published according to Act
 Oct. 30. 1756. by Edmund
 and Darcy at the Crown printing House, Strand.

Punch's Opera with the Humours of Littleben the Sailor. 51

These Figures Gem'men & Ladies are the Richest & Largest in Europe. I Challenge all the World to shew the like. The Habits are Entire new from Paris. To be seen in the Evenings only at y^e Great Folly in the Hay Market by Subscribers, French Milliners & Vales de Champs Published according to Act Oct. 15. 1736. by Edwards & Darby at y^e Horn facing Hungerford Street

2

HIC NIGER EST 38

ACAPULCA

The Still Birth

This Silly Jade has Labour'd long,
 At length she has brought forth
 Some 'Yellow Bubbles' for herself,
 Say what Mahon was worth,
 A Curse upon all Artifice,
 May Britons never thrive,
 While Roguish M..... as they Sleep
 Do Eat them up, Alive.
 By Lots they sell Oh Dam 'em well,
 Each Place we put our trust in,
 Cut 'em off short, twill make good Sport,
 Whilst honest men are thrust in.

*In vain to Hardened Vice your wrongs you'll plead;
 There is but one who will these wrongs redress.
 If Vice depose you in your greatest need,
 A virtue will relieve, it can't do less.*

This is the only way to the relief of the poor, and the only way to the relief of the poor.

OPTIMUS.

41

BRITONS BEHOLD
The Best of Kings.

*Beloved by the bravest of People?
Justly admired by all.*

By his Enemies Dreaded?

May he live long and happy?

No' Evil and Corrupt Ministers

Dare to Approach his Sacred presence?

Let none but such as Imitate his Virtues have any Power.

Then shall Britannia be Blest for Ever.

To be had at the Awn facing Hangerford Strand.

42

it from an intention in  his friend
 a n the Count
 the proper Actor      they know a man R & have no Rais'd from the  now this  sell h^e so cheap to thought, they never  Rais'd  Enough pay for a  they've had they've Play'd such tricks & Run
 n Debt so since the   the C. J.
 will trust im a  and  make a  Doubt and   way will or no & should  glad of  let me know how things R
 of the  man  remain

1st. I have just now Re^d   to the
 as at a  loss how  Dispose of his West
 And a Commodities for it seems the fine Model of a   they put up at such a High price is gone for little  nothing

1
G M w
t
id
(
a 2
3
4
P

[illegible]

Published according to Act. Nov. 4. 1756. by Edwards & Darleaving, Somerset. Street

Nell Gwynn in the Hungary  lot 1736.
 Most un  full  n the  U to  was most t/ 2 pieces  war & David only by  Anterren
 t on of our Good  & now  2 a French fig
 1 t  w  hes servid  turn will CU at the 4 hell stir a  2 love you  this  As the  Burth most un the  t  as kindest  o'em they ways slightl  ll find n  R,  ce Concluded
 U w  ll an Abandon'd  urse  Nell Gwynn.

Published according to Act Dec. 16. 1736. by Edwards & Darby facing Hungerford Strand.

The Ostrich.

46

That Veteran in Iniquity, who like the Silly Ostrich thinking himself Invisible to all he does not see, hides his head — and leaves his bare backside an object of Derision to every Paparonger.

Published according to Act Nov. 15. 1798. by Dandy & Edwards at the Horn facing Hangerford Strand.

I am glad to hear you have got off the business and have hopes of it. I hope you will find any other part of the business as I have long had a 10 day of the business they are true
 I don't mean to say of a part of it in the business. It is so. I don't like it. Now
 I don't like a scabby one, a whole of that. It will be done. Madam be right. I'll take care of the war by land & don't desire you mind any thing else
 Truly Yours

Though Humour wth me Rem yet I took eⁿ to do Business I was wth some m^{an} nent French Patr^{on} & o^{ther} are they I dance an English^{man} seems as if they could do nothing else here lies the ^{stake} their I are as active as their I was m^{an} care to d^o a little eⁿ of the I and I ways had success may m^{an}
 I m^{an} advise you to walk I n this path it w^{ill}
 mentieⁿ be in an^y ones power to shake you say & hold

Killegrew

2

Exit Unworthies.

Enter Worthies.

51

No more thy quarrel, blind People,
The Vulture now no more shall fear,
No more the Wily Fox;
Lost in a Pit in vain he strives,
And Scapula no more thrives,
But splits on these Sharp Rocks.

Published according to the Decree of the House of Commons, 1793.

the Bankrupts with Anecdotes.
Harry Renard French Broker, this Person traded very High, and amass'd large Sums, but his Creditors are not Satisfied, nor ever will be thought.

Tom Chat-enough alias Old Capt.ⁿ
Tom, a great many People are Sorry for this Man, as it appears 'twas more want of knowledge that he fail'd than any Design.

Tony Pettite Lutioneer's Clerk, this Person was what they call in Monmouth Street a Barker, & us'd to talk People off as its term'd in the Cant of which he's perfect Master.

Gnam Bonwells alias Misanthropos, a Grecian by name, his Dealings were very Lucrative both in public & private, but being suspected of Selling a Strong Box,
in which were many Valuables to y^e French,
he was forc'd to Quit Buings.

Acapulca alias Leo Matrino Ship's Husband, this man when in private Trade had very good luck, but having an itch to what is call'd fall to every Tradesman, he let all run to rack & ruin to gratify that favorite passion. Vivat Rex.

FINIS

No more the Snakes in Sunshine Bask, Just so from Heavens Exalted Height, Smuggled the Black Insidious taste, — Struck by great Jove's Ethereal Light,
 Of Envious Spite's there Aim; — The Devil's Kiss'd their Shame.
 Published according to Act Dec 4. 1750. by Dooly & Edwards at the Corn-Exchange Alley Strand.

Guy Vaux the 2^d

54

The Wicked is Snared in the Work of his own Hands thou hast seen it Psalm 10th

Published according to the Dec. 16. 1756 by Richardson & Darcy in the Strand

We most humbly Request if it can but be done ;
 That B...g may be spared till our Betts are all won,
 There's great ones depending, but larger are Brewing,
 Which will strengthen our Force & the Voddys will ruin.
 Young — has Cole, and My — is at leisure ?
 And for want of Employ, he will fleece him at pleasure.
 If a fortnight we had some thousands we would gain.
 To Sell Fleets, Armys or Honour neer gives us much pain.

The Triumph of Neptune in the Carracina Sale Anno. 1757.

Doth you see I am in love
 & the wind is exactly as it did when Matthew & I took did the thing.

*My dear old man
I have had the typhoid very hard we hope your weather gave us the roof of the old house!*

Glad a pore
- Glad you run
H. to Leeward.

Oh! Oh! I'll give it up help help a I look neglect

Rigidum-Furidus In. et Scap. Pub. Accord to list at the Barra facing Hudgerford mark: Barrow.

Will France pretend to face us now.
No No not they by Jove: Bow wow

THE LYING HYDRA

The Art of Political Lying

Hardened in Iniquity have Expected no Change

*The Vulture, Fox, and Ape can do,
More Wickedness than Damien knew,
Destroy by Avrice Guile & Treason?
All Justice, Virtue, Right and Reason;
Damien hadst known the Arts of these?
No rash Attempt had lost thy Case,
Nor Knife, nor Poison woudst thou need?
Louis by Surer means woud Bleed?*

Published according to Act. March 4. 1757, to be had at the Acorn facing Hungerford.

THE CENTINEL or Devils Landau. for his Imps . 62

Hague Printed, London Reprinted. March 4. 1757.

THE TERROR OF FRANCE 1757/63

For your (say) be. Beyond the Water.

The way the Hare Runs
or More doubled than one. -

"Any Day" what's it all
 this for pray come back
 or I shall make you
 I shall fight, I shall
 "Any Day" what's it all
 this for pray come back
 or I shall make you
 I shall fight, I shall

Coming Sir all Hands
May come again we have nothing to do here now.

In view my near-absolute Country Disposition.
The young knowers of her Land here name:
Connections for a her Disposition brings
And Advice Will her Reading Vitals brings.

29 Dec 1757 deposited

James P. S. S.

A Jahr bevor Sie die von Grandmère fortan
widerwillig bezeugen sollten.

Dear Mr. Langman: Please send me the large number of the issue that contains the article on the
"Fifty Years."

Persons are known to doubt or well understood persons have to doubt from such

Turnips (3) 100.

A. Brückner, Suppl. 1000

Publ^d According to Act of the Bason (Toward. P^o 5

THE DEVIL of a MEDLEY.

66

COURT MANNERS OF TAVERN RIOTERS

-67-

By the way, it is the police who are to be kept in the hands.

An Als Loaded with Trifles & Preferences

68

Only 15400-17th p. 1000.
To be had at the Golden Horn facing Hungerford Strand.

To be had facing Hungerford at the Neorn Strand

The Sturdy Beggar.

And what must you have next
 And if you are must drain,
 Sir, please for you,

Sir its but prudent to
 Why provide for my own.

Daddy won't be die soon Sir

It's too hot to live long

[illegible]

How vain the Efforts of the tribe,
 Who thro' the Dirty Paths have trod,
 Of to race those who think a trifle?
 It could make each Man forsake his God,
 How vain they say the path to tread,
 Of him who bids the summit guard,
 They're by such different Motives led,
 As never true Men nor yet Observe it.

Published according to the Dec. 4. 1796. by Edwards & Darcy printing Kingsford in the Strand.

When two Silly Dogs Fight, incomes tug & Steals the Bone.
 who had at the Avorn, facing Hungerford, In and

... . C. m. (B. m. t. 3)

The Recruiting Sergeant for Britannia's Happy Prospect 73

Illustrated by Wm. L. L.

The Whimbey Dr. J. P. G. & Buckleford "Gumman Books" 17.5.

The Whiskers, Or J. M. Suckling's Progress. 1757.

Suckling the 1st Part.

The Bawd of the Nation -1757-

82

1. America: 2. The American Revolution. 3. The Guardian of Honor.

Hogan Mogan, or our Good Allies, 1759.

Touch it not

Voice

Small

Still

Touch it again — and be hang'd.

86

To be sold by Auction all the various Gowns & Utensils in the British Weaving Manufactories by Seignior Tachians and Mons. Bellamy.

Advertisement.

The Amsterdam Bug a Bois 1759.

M. Berel . M. Vanderpoll . M. Meerman

The Court Cards of 1759, or Hearts is Trump & has Won the Game

the Game My
a man will Europe & care not

Optimism
Cards enough
Hearts

My Image is not for another's hands

have not got a sick yet.

K of P—d Holland

Give such Cards to whom
I can't lose them

I never play
I cheat

We won't stand another French Truancy

Divide I never Trump

Gallua

I have a great many of them

(Faint handwritten notes)

M.B.-2

Handwritten text on a curved surface, possibly a scroll or a piece of paper, mentioning "The Great" and "The Great" in a stylized script.

lost time

Them

The Subject to his Friend Upon his Conduct in Ger Anno Dom' 1759.
 This comes to conplate'll on the took my honor: I tho we wd be successful owing to Ferdinando who down him & destroy'd so of Our the prett French yet & &
 sever more make our Toast N M and the nor the of old we'll get off. out good friend to h'd me since M Binge M will keep of raising of in M Count the French how much love him & aggravate to them our Cause
 (M. W name Nakes me shake like an aspin he is at the of off We sh Mr thrice wishy had to Gran for his sing his & sing so fond of fighting his has hurt & let them to is pleas'd with him Re him like none of gall Crew hold up & let Valour & Comfort Am Comm'd

ofQ1

1759.

Gen  a s prayer for a Spe^e Court Part^{er}
 pray  as  did Fight nor yet run away
 Did n^o other  as  do nor yet Disobey.
 said My    killin^d a My foes Conquer'd d^esp^{er}t n^o .
 did n^o  good in the  le they say
 No harm  m^e sure  was out of harms way.
 No French  by me was ere sent  the shades
 ll C^o for a Witnes My  Friend Contades.
 their  a Flaut gout of French  know a Blood Uglio
 Ask my other     Mons^{ie}ur.
 as  have Acquir'd n^o  nor heap'd up any pelf
 t^o  pray try me  rectly By such as my self.
 t^o   say'd.  my  as to my Count^{ess}  trod on her
 Yet My   bring me in  Guilty upon my honour.
 So  stop the   now of me do Babble
 and  ing Honourably   app^{er} a the Rabble.
 so  get rid of my   in my own Native Land
 Which   could  have done by Prince Ferd^{er} nand.

gain
 let Cou don
 Ris
 Lik of le Ta
 Ry
 and Ri
 th
 them

1759

 Answer to the Supper
 Mr Tom

Ret I I thanks for I & am glad I have gain'd I Steem I'll take I ad I & hold up my I & pray let the I & Friends try I serve me I own I Could have done my I & Count I serv I if I had done as t I Gran I for so I & such as Risquet I lives in I tell the I fed English fought like I & look'd I in the I with as much pleasure
 I Admire My pretty I in my I the noise of I & the stink of powder made me so Mal a le. tele t I My poor I was in my I the Fatigue of Noisy War so My I send me some Refreshing I of eau de luce and some French
 I sticking plaister for I have scratch'd My I & with the I I where I hid my self and dont forget some pompa I pomatum I sh
 Ride I to bring I some I from I French friends
 I thank I for I Raising the I I a - ag^t
 them I I  Bobidel

General Pompadour or the Minden Hero. 1759.

96

*The Effects of Henry de Pottet a Bankrupt 1759.
Selling by Auction 100,000 Soldiers, Several Men of War, last Quantities of Plate, Can de Luxe, Naval Stores &c. Enquire farther of
G. R. & W. P. Assignees to the Estate in London.*

The Old Art of War, taught to Mon^r Conflans
by S^r Edw^d Hawke Nov^r 20. 1759.

1. The Thesee sunk by the Torrey Com^r Keppel 815 Men on board. 2. Com^r Keppel. 3. Le Superbe of 70 Guns 800 Men sunk by 4^d How of the (4) the Magnanime. 5. The Chatham, Portland, & Vengeance going to destroy the Soliel Royal & Nem. 6. The Soliel Royal. 7. the Nem. 8. 9. The Resolution & Essex on the four, 10. the Ranold took in on a Ript. 11. the Invincible of 80 Guns & 1000 Men taken. 12. 8 French Men of War drove into the Villane. 13. The Saphire and Coventry going to destroy the ships in the River Villane. 14. M^r Conflans Dream on the 19th viz^t that a Hawk had destroy'd a Cock and that the Sun was totally Eclips'd, which was verifi'd to his Sorrow and his Country's Confusion.

The Mistake near Minden in Germany, 1759.

1759

It's a Christian's Duty to show Mercy to his Enemies.

Ms. A. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1.